

To Whom It May Concern:

The University of Miami Police serves a community of over 26,000 students, faculty and staff from all over the world. Our mission is to provide a safe campus environment. We welcome proactive strategies that enhance our staff's abilities to reduce crime and threats of violence on campus.

In search of better training for our departmental personnel, we have received great accolades regarding Mayday International's counter-terrorism strategies from several law enforcement agencies and public facilities. The behavior pattern recognition strategy taught by Mayday is developed from individuals who have years of personal experience with a culture that continues to elude American law enforcement officials. Avi and the Mayday team were a valuable resource to city, county and federal law enforcement officers.

Our department received Mayday's training. Officers were impressed with Mayday's knowledge and expertise in candidate screening, terrorist detection and explosive devices. Mayday's professionalism and on-task presentation taught them to better understand how to detect and react to terrorist/criminal activity and attacks on campus.

Avi and I have discussed his program for school safety at length. It is his wish to bring Mayday's specialized training to schools. In a time when the threat of terrorism or large scale violence is pertinent to campuses across the country, Mayday's program is necessary and appropriate. It is with utmost regard that I recommend Mayday International as part of any school safety training curriculum.

Sincerely,
